Greetings from the Chief

Hello Dads, Guides & Princesses:

It sounds like Cosmic Bowling was quite an event, not to be missed. Unfortunately, I missed it. Due to my recent move of residents, I wasn't focused on nation events and completely forgot that bowling was taking place. I hear that it was standing room only. I don't have exact figures, but Josie told me that the place was packed and we had to limit the number of bowlers. I'm very sorry that I missed it.

Next up is Camp Fox. Like last year, we are severely limited as to the number of campers that will be allowed. Last I heard we had already filled up and had quite an extensive wait list, so if you're not already in, there's a pretty good chance you're not going this year. My tribe (Cree) has decided to stay stateside and host our own to be determined event, so I will be missing all of you. I hope it is even half as nice as it was last year!

The Annual Support Campaign is in full swing. I would like to extend a gracious thank you to everyone who participated in this year's campaign and especially to the team leaders who should be reminding everyone to come together and put us over the top again this year. If you haven't yet been contacted by your team leader, please call them (or Josie if you're not sure who to contact).

April's event will be Vasquez Rocks. This will be the nation's first foray to this venue and it should be lots of fun. I'm looking forward to seeing you all there. Then in May we will be going to Lancaster for our annual Jet Hawk's game and winding up the year with our Spring Family Campout up at Sycamore Canyon Campground.

Have fun at Fox!

APACHE TRIBE

The Apache tribe had a stellar time at Cosmic Bowling. Those in attendance included Big Sky & Lightning Bolt, Big Thunder & Red Cloud, Laughing Crow & Soaring Eagle, Wild Boar & Howling Wolf, Jumping Mustang & Gliding Hawk, Mighty Shark, and Snow Lizard. Thanks to Bobby & Jordan for hosting our tribal gathering this month.

MOHAVE TRIBE

News from Mohave.....

This month's activity was Cosmic Bowling and Mohave had a large turnout, with: Ethan, Chase, Craig, Josh, Joel, Ryan, Justy, Bradley, Matthew P. & Matthew M. all in attendance. Clearly there are some budding professional bowlers in the group with a number of strikes and spares being recorded, I think there even was a Beer soda-frame or two.

While the kids were on the lanes the dads were still taking about the escape from Camp Whittle. Funny, seems like the water keeps getting deeper every time the story gets told. Hopefully Terry has retrieved his car by now.

Those Mohave who got off the dime and signed up for Camp Fox are really looking forward to it. Hopefully we'll see some spring-like conditions in time. Otherwise the talk at next Cosmic Bowling may be all about the escape from Camp Fox!!!
